Realtime recording is a method of recording in which you strike the pads in time with MEMO the metronome to record a pattern just as you play it. The metronome will continue sounding, but striking the pads will not cause notes to be recorded. Strike the pad at the following timing. fig.0136a Metronome sound All the sounds you recorded will continue playing back repeatedly. To ReDo Your Recording Listen to the pattern that you recorded. The pattern will be erased, and the display will indicate "Done." You can assign a name of up to seven characters to a pattern that you record. "Naming a pattern". Here's how you can use step recording to record a simple song. Step recording is a method in which you use the numeric or other keys to specify the MEMO order of the patterns that will be played back. To ReDo the Recording If you specify the wrong pattern while recording, use the following procedure to re-record the pattern correctly. It is not possible to use multiple drum kits in a single pattern. Create a Pattern Create record a musical pattern for a portion of the song. Up to 400 user patterns can be created. It is not possible to record any more notes than this. Create a Song Arrange user patterns you've created, or any of the 400 preset patterns into a desired playback order to create record a song. When this mode is selected, the display will indicate "MIDI.". The volume, tone, etc., will change in response to the force with which you strike the pad.

Selecting a Drum Kit From the 64 preset drum kits and 64 user drum kits, select the drum kit that you want to use. If the DR770 is in DPP mode, a pattern will play back. The following settings will be copied. On the DR770, a different note number is assigned to each instrument of a drum kit. This process is called Bulk Dump. Amazon Customer 3.0 out of 5 stars The worst thing about it is the start stop points. It does not go back to the beginning, but stays in the middle of the beat.

You MUST reset it if you are trying to sink it with other drums in the middle of a song; on you keyboard for example. This can be a problem in a live gig. You can increase the volume without breaking the eardrums. Easy to use IF you read AND study the manual very simple reading for the advanced. You can preset your patterns for your gig easily by assigning them to the drum pads, just press DIP while in the drum pattern you want to use, and hold while you press a pad. Whalla! your pattern is assigned to the pad! So easy. I love the wheels for volume and tempo. No backlit. Lay FLAT and you will see it fine. Good luck! I would not recommend this machine because of the restart, but I will always buy boss. Please try again later. Please try again later. PNormanton 2.0 out of 5 stars Excellent sounds but designed by blithering idiots who have obviously never used one to play with a guitar in a live gig environment. The foot pedal capabilities is extremely limited inasmuch as you can move from main to supplementary pattern but not back again via the footswitch. You can do it via the buttons on the front but hey design dumbos, you need both hands for a guitar! Also when the second footswitch button is used to STOP the pattern play using it to restart brings you in at the same point in the pattern you stopped at could be beat 2 Who would ever want to start on the second beat. Why oh why not restart at the beginning of the pattern like real professional drum machines. Once again, a wonderful sounding bit of kit with non-vol memory and good sounds badly let down by some complete lack of understanding of the needs of those who use it i.e. people like me the customer! Did Boss recruit their engineers from British Leyland. Just a thought! Please try again later. Please try again later. Michael H. Nevergold 5.0 out of 5 stars Nice effects and sound shaping. Overall a good base unit. Please try again later. Please try again later. Includes the manual, turbo start sheet and AC Power Supply.
